

CLIMATE CONNECTIONS

for Healthier, Stronger Communities

FREE, VIRTUAL COMMUNITY-CENTERED WORKSHOP SERIES

Join virtual conversations on the environmental challenges affecting RI's most impacted communities—and what we can do together to build healthier, more resilient neighborhoods.

WHY ATTEND?

- Get facts on climate change and environmental justice
- Learn how DEM works to protect our air, water, and land
- Find out how YOU can get involved and access resources
- Join the conversation on environmental justice in RI

LET'S MAKE RHODE ISLAND CLEANER, GREENER, AND FAIRER—TOGETHER.

Hosted by the RI Department of Environmental Management (DEM), with community partners, these one-hour workshops feature community voices, state experts, and practical tools to help YOU take action for your health, family, and future.

REGISTER NOW to save your spot and find answers to questions at dem.ri.gov/climate-conversations

WORKSHOP SCHEDULE

THE IMPACTS OF CLIMATE CHANGE

Wednesday, May 7 | 6PM

with DEM's Office of Air Resources and Woonasquatucket River Watershed Council

Learn what climate justice means, how climate change is impacting your area, and what we're doing about it.

ENSURING CLEAN WATER FOR ALL

Wednesday, May 21 | 6PM

with DEM's Office of Water Resources and Central Falls Parks and Recreation

Understand how flooding, pollution, and clean water access are changing—and how to help protect waterways.

COMMUNITY AIR MONITORING

Wednesday, June 4 | 6PM

with DEM's Office of Air Resources and Breathe Providence

Explore how climate change affects the air we breathe and what's being done to fight pollution and protect our health.

GROWING GREENER COMMUNITIES

Wednesday, June 18 | 6PM

with DEM's Urban Forestry Program and Groundwork RI

Learn how trees keep neighborhoods cooler, healthier, and more vibrant—and how to green your community.